

DURTAC SMARTTOUCH GLOVE

The DURTAC with advanced SmartTouch technology is designed to protect the hands of military and SWAT team members during forcible entry and high-risk operations. It features a one-piece knuckle guard molded with dense thermoplastic, which protects the back of the hand, and has palm padding, which absorbs impact to reduce hand fatigue in the field. The knuckle protection is welded to the glove and delivers flexible protection against impact injuries and skin abrasions. The low wrist design gives a very flexible feel when operating in small places or around the plate carrier and the moisture wicking, heavy-duty lycra gussets ensure increased breathability. The ventilated fingers provide increased airflow and comfort.
